Copyrighted 1913, Pastor Plaza Church, Los Angeles

OLD PLAZA CHURCH

The first church built in Los Angeles; the foundation was laid in 1814 when this beautiful city was but a little Pueblo of less than 1000 inhabitants.

It was formerly known as the church of Nuestra Senora Reina de Los Angeles (Our Lady, Queen of the Angels.)—Now in charge of the Missionary Sons of the Sacred Heart of Mary.

Regular religious services are held there as of old.
